DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the application prior to the entry of the submission under 37 CFR 1.114 and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the application prior to entry under 37 CFR 1.114. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action after the filing of a request for continued examination and the submission under 37 CFR 1.114. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-2, 4, 6-7 and 10-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Matsui et al (US 5,545,281) in view of Tate et al (US 4,774,634).

Matsui discloses a target surface (1) having a plurality of terminal parts, and substantially all the claimed limitations.

Matsui fails to provide support for providing a plurality of terminal-forming areas being no greater than corresponding one of the electronic components and providing a plurality of specified terminal-forming areas including a plurality of terminal parts directly thereon such that each pair of the terminal parts within any one of the terminal-forming areas is closer to each other than any pair of the terminal parts in different ones of the terminal-forming areas.

Tate discloses providing a plurality of specified terminal-forming areas (areas where electronic components 27, 20, 25-26, 20, 31, 24, 28) including a plurality of terminal parts (where electronic components are connected to in Fig. 3) directly thereon such that each pair of the terminal parts within any one of the terminal-forming areas is closer to each other than any pair of the terminal parts in different ones of the terminal-forming areas (areas where 24 and 28 lie closer than 26 and 27) thereby providing more electronic components on a small real estate printed circuit board to perform more functions.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Matsui by providing a plurality of specified terminal-forming areas including a plurality of terminal parts directly thereon such that each pair of the terminal parts within any one of the terminal-forming areas is closer to each other than any pair of the terminal parts in different ones of the terminal-forming areas, as taught by Tate, for the purpose of providing more electronic components on a small real estate printed circuit board to perform more functions.

Matsui discloses in Fig. 2 shows one specified terminal-forming area being no greater than corresponding one electronic component (201). Matsui fails to disclose a plurality of terminal-forming areas and a plurality of corresponding electronic components. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide a plurality of terminal-forming areas and a plurality of corresponding electronic components, since it have been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. St. Regis Paper Co. v. Bemis Co., 193 USPQ 8.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 11/12/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

36s in Tate are spanned a plurality of terminal-forming areas. Tate shows terminals are not evenly spaced or uniformly distributed (Fig. 1).

Interviews After Final

5. Applicant note that an interview after a final rejection must be submitted briefly in writing the intended purpose and content of the interview (the agenda of the interview must be in writing). Upon review of the agenda, the Examiner may grant the interview if the examiner is convinced that disposal or clarification for appeal may be accomplished with only nominal further consideration. Interviews merely to restate arguments of record or to discuss new limitations will be denied. See MPEP 714.13 and 713.09.

Conclusion

Art Unit: 3729

6. Please provide reference numerals (either in parentheses next to the claimed limitation or in a table format with one column listing the claimed limitation and another column listing corresponding reference numerals in the remark section of the response to the Office Action) to all the claimed limitations as well as support in the disclosure for better clarity. Applicants are duly reminded that a full and proper response to this Office Action that includes any amendment to the claims and specification of the application as originally filed requires that the applicant point out the support for any amendment made to the disclosure, including the claims. See 37 CFR 1.111 and MPEP 2163.06.
